WARREN WISHES YOU MERRY CHRISTMAS HAPPY NEW YEAR

On Friday afternoon, with the assistance of Santa Claus, the Retailers Committee of the Chamber of Commerce officially opened Warren's 1951 holiday shopping season.

Turning on of the overhead Christmas street lights for the first time this year marked the opening, and this was done during the lighting ceremony parade which started at 3:00 p. m. from the east side at Crescent street, moving westward on Penna. avenue. It had been planned that the high school band would take part in the procession, but due to inclement weather they could not participate, which put quite a damper on proceedings and was a big disappointment to all concerned.

Ben Kinnear, as general chairman for the retailers, officiated, and rode in the first car of the procession, which was driven by Police Chief Mike Egan. As they arrived at each installation of colored lights, Mr. Kinnear snapped the control switch turning them on. In the second car driven by Nat Drake, Chamber Secretary, were Santa Claus, who took time off from his pre-holiday visit to Mettger-Wright's to join the parade, Burgess Wm. F. Crossett, and Ray Steber, president of the Warren Chamber of Commerce.

In the third car driven by Byron W. Knapp, Chamber Civic Affairs Chairman, were Wm. H. Cannon, chairman of the Retailers Christmas Decoration Sub-committee, Ed Lowrey, Editor of the Times-Mirror, and Leroy Schneek, program director of Radio Station WNAE. In the fourth and last car, were several members of the Retailers Committee including Jerry Waxman, Frank Wood, Russell Hanson and Raymond Stein.

There are installations at eighteen locations in the borough this year, including four large neon stars which add much to the decorations, and considering the large lighted greeting sign above, installed by the Jaycees on the south river bank, Warren boasts holiday decorations of which every citizen can be justly proud.

This extensive holiday street lighting project for Warren has been made possible by cash contributions from local retailers and other business places, installation by members of Electrical Workers Union, locals 174 and B1124 on their own time without pay, wholesale prices on necessary materials by C. Beckley, Inc., and Kintner Signs, and free use of trucks and other equipment needed for the installations by Penna. Electric Co., C. Beckley, Inc., Schaeffer Electric Co., and Bell Telephone Co.

McGrath issued a statement last night promising the committee cooperation after committee members had taken the fight over access to the files to President Truman in an effort to break the impasse.

King said the agreement worked out with the justice department did not mean that the files would be given into the committee's possession. But he said McGrath agreed to let staff investigators check through the records at the justice department for such information as the committee specified.

The hearings will give Caudle a chance to explain the outside "pressures" to which he said he was subjected in his tax work.

Pittsburgh, Nov. 26—(P)—Auto crashes killed six persons in western Pennsylvania over the weekend. Five of the victims were women.

Three were killed in a two-car crash on the Sharon-Mercer highway and two others died in a collision near Pittsburgh. One woman was crushed against a house by her automobile.

Killed in the wreck near Sharon Saturday were Miss Zella Branch-uridge and Miss Ellen Lockhart, both of Mercer, and Vernon Wherry, 33, of Sharon. Two sisters, Elizabeth Pasak, 45, and Helen Pasak, 40, of suburban North Braddock, were crushed to death when a trailer truck overturned on their car.

Warren county was covered by a thin coating of ice during most of the night, making highway travel hazardous, but a slight rise in temperature just before dawn served to relieve most of the danger within the borough limits. In the suburban districts, however, the highways were still in dangerous condition later in the day.

With fair weather predicted by the U. S. Weather Bureau for Tuesday, unexpected snow flurries started late in the morning, and a continuation of cold, with some rain, was promised for late today.

Authorities again urged motorists to keep off the highways, if possible, whenever they are coated with ice.

While most of last week's snow has disappeared, the Jackson Heights vicinity and other higher sections of the county still retain a thin white covering on hilltops and in shaded areas.

Several commuters who reside in Lander and other outlying villages were unable to report for work in Warren today.

By The Associated Press
A Sunday storm, blowing in from the west, brought sleet, freezing rain and hail to much of Pennsylvania, but a forecast of milder weather today was expected to make highway travel less hazardous.

Weather men said the storm started Saturday in Colorado and neighboring states and moved slowly eastward.

Most sections of western Pennsylvania reported icy highways last night. Hundreds of cinderling crews were set to work upon them by the State Highway Department.

Heavy rain fell upon the Pittsburgh district itself, but the mercury was just above the freezing mark.

Hail pelted Philadelphia Sunday night, then turned to rain which continued for hours, as it did in Harrisburg.

Delegation From Warren Present At Funeral of Smock

Meadville's facilities were taxed to overflowing, Saturday, when hundreds from over the state attended funeral services for Ray F. Smock, state highway secretary, who died suddenly Tuesday night after delivering an address at Blairsville.

Gov. John S. Fine went by plane from Indiantown Gap and headed a large official delegation in paying a final tribute. Gov. Fine was also an honorary pallbearer, and the active bearers members of the Meadville Kiwanis Club of which Mr. Smock was a member. Included in a delegation of 200 from the State Highway Department were Warren Lowe, superintendent of highways for Warren county, and the two assistants, George Joy of Warren, and Gilbert Sanford of Youngsville.

Judge Allison D. Wade, Jesse G. Smith, and P. C. Ostergard, of Warren, and Assemblyman Allen M. Gibson of Sheffield, also were present.

Services were conducted in Stone Methodist church by the pastor, Dr. Albert Marriott; Dr. Louis T. Benzet, president of Allegheny College; and Rev. Sheridan W. Bell, pastor of Grace Methodist church, Harrisburg, where Mr. Smock attended services when in the capital.

A state and city police honor guard of 33 men escorted Smock's family and the official party to the commitment service in Greendale cemetery.

Included among the large number of Pennsylvania State policemen who attended the services were Cpl. Donald Holmes, Private J. R. Krupey and W. C. Timmons of the Warren sub-station.

A FINE TRIBUTE was paid to James Hengst in the form of a plaque and gifts from Warren young people at the Canteen Saturday evening. The presentations came as a big surprise to Jim, who is shown above with his wife, Gladys, after the ceremony, and was the kids' way of thanking him for all his efforts given towards promotion of The Spot. He will be leaving Warren shortly to go on active duty with the Navy.

John Mangus of the Hi-Y Club gave the "Y" secretary a wallet with $10 and from the Canteen members, represented by Leroy Salerno, he was presented a shaving kit. Most cherished of all was the plaque from the group, with the following inscription: "To Jim Hengst, The Founder of This Canteen. In appreciation of his hard work in building and promoting a recreation center for the Warren Youth. December, 1951."

Jim's response to all this was very heart warming. He said, "I feel guilty being called the founder of the Canteen. It belongs to you, you are the ones who built it and run it, and I know you will continue to grow. I will look forward to returning to Warren and working with you again."

The cheers and applause rendered by the large group present at the dance were alone a big enough "thank you" for one of Warren's greatest youth leaders. Upon entering the building in the middle of the program, students had lined both sides of the entrance and as he entered the band struck up a loud tune, everyone cheered, and a huge sign, "Good Luck Jim", was hanging from the wall.

VERY MUCH ALIVE

Paul Greenlund, brother of Justice of the Peace Tracy M. Greenlund, whose picture appeared with the 1905 W. H. S. football team on the sports page Friday, and who was named as deceased, is very much alive and is clerk in the Anthony Wayne Hotel, Waynesburg, Pa. Arthur Mead, also mentioned in the article, has passed away. We regret the error.

IN POOR CONDITION

It was reported today at Warren General Hospital that Harry F. Priset of Sheffield, who underwent a major operation for appendicitis, is in poor condition today. His daughter, Mrs. Ernest Kish of Mt. Kisco, N. Y., is at his bedside.

ILL AT ANNAPOLIS

Mrs. Richard E. Elliott, who recently underwent a serious operation at the U. S. Naval Hospital, Annapolis, Md., has been removed to her home at the U. S. Naval Radio Station, near Annapolis, where she is recovering. Capt. Elliott, who is a brother of Mrs. Donald Smith and Dr. Russell Elliott of Warren, is commanding officer of the radio station.

LAD RECOVERING

Burnell Farnsworth, aged 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Farnsworth, Sheffield, who underwent an emergency appendectomy operation last week, was removed to his home yesterday from Warren General Hospital, and is doing nicely. When taken with the attack of appendicitis, Burnell was just recovering from injuries suffered a few weeks ago when hit in the eye with shot from a BB gun.

REPORTED SERIOUS

The many friends of Herbert Eaton, who is a patient in the Gipson Nursing Home, Prospect street, will regret to learn that this well known citizen, who will be 85 years old in January, is in serious condition. His three daughters, Mrs. Neil E. Donovan of Erie, Mrs. Edward Lingquist of Warren, O., and Mrs. R. W. Schwartz of Martinsville, N. J., and their families, have been called here to be with Mrs. Eaton.

LOSES GREAT DANE

J. E. Cornwall of Pittsburgh, is lamenting the loss of his large Great Dane, "Mary Ann," who disappeared in the woods in the vicinity of Kinzua while Mr. Cornwall was hunting there last week. The dog is a beauty and weighs about 145 pounds. Mr. Cornwall is afraid some hunter may mistake the dog for a deer after the season opens and is offering a reward for her recovery. He is a brother of R. A. Cornwall, deputy collector of internal revenue, Room 203, Warren post office building, and asks that anyone knowing of the dog get in touch with the local Mr. Cornwall.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fenstermacher, 101 Pioneer streets, are expected to return Tuesday after a brief visit with friends and relatives in Catawissa.

SUFFERS HEART ATTACK

Axel W. Larson, 2 Averill St., suffered a heart attack at his home early Sunday afternoon and was taken to the hospital in the Templeton ambulance. His condition is reported as fair today. A son, Dr. John W. Larson, of Pittsburgh, arrived during the night.

SLEET DAMAGE

One instance of sleet damage from last night's storm is very much visible to all who look in that direction. The television antennae on the roof of the Eagles' Club was bent completely over the weight of ice and the force of gusts of wind which blew all night.

HEARINGS SLATED

Police hearings this week include those of John Rizzuto, charged with aggravated assault and battery, and Earl T. Rossman, charged with arson. Rizzuto's case will be heard Tuesday at two p. m., and Rossman on Friday at 11 a. m., both before Police Justice Tracy M. Greenlund.

INTRUDER SURPRISED

City police received a call of an attempted burglary on the east side at 2:10 a. m. Saturday. Officers responding to the call, got in the home before the burglar, who turned out to be the ex-husband of the occupant. They surprised him at the head of the cellar stairs, and escorted the intruder out of the house and the neighborhood.

VERDICT RETURNED

A jury hearing the case of Commercial Credit Corporation vs. Frank G. Mitchell concluded the case Friday afternoon by returning a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $1,947.05. The case involved payment for an automobile. Today, the civil term continues with the case of Roy and Minnie May Phillips vs. Carl S. Fogle estate, a claim for $3,223.54 for repairs and alterations to a property owned by the defendant.

OFFICERS NOMINATED

At a recent meeting of the Fraternal Order of Police, officers were nominated for election on December 20 in Kane. Unopposed for president of the local Bucktail chapter is Officer Charles W. Musante of Warren. Others from Warren nominated for office include Edward Bielawski, for vice-president; Officer Bernard Winegardner, for financial secretary; F. J. Erich, for recording secretary; and Wallace Outrid, for three-year trustee.

"Little House On Corner" Decorated

A Christmas lighting project that is certain to attract much attention during the Yuletide season may be seen at "the little house on the corner of Third avenue and Liberty street" occupied by the West Penn Oil Company, and owned by Leo H. Ward, of the Newell Press.

Mr. Ward has decorated the West Penn building with Christmas lights, and before the weekend will have a Santa Claus at the chimney on the roof. The entire display is further illuminated with flood lights placed on the ground along the fence making a fascinating sight for citizens and visitors to the community.

This is another of the many enterprising and progressive innovations Mr. Ward has sponsored since his coming to Warren as owner of the Newell Press in January, 1948.

CLARENDON

The regular meeting of the W. S. C. S. was held in the Methodist parlors. The meeting was opened by the singing of hymns, followed by prayer; devotions were conducted by Mrs. Maude Hyer; a very interesting program was presented, led by Mrs. Mary Camp-

Letters to the Editor

Wednesday's paper and on the page we see an eloquent plea for the parole of John C. Polens. The editor, from our minds the best that all of us experienced in the cold blooded murder of the Seminole. All of us make takes and in fits of anger or when they are more easily overruled. But this murder was premeditated, studied and thought out for some time. The penalty known to Polens if he got caught, and the necessary precautions were taken, or so they thought.

Robert E. Welch, parole director at the Western State Penitentiary, is expressing himself rather badly when he states, and I quote, "there is no opposition in Warren county to his plea for freedom," unquote. Let me state that for one very definitely oppose freedom for Polens at this or any other time. Metro Seminole is still in the idea that in Warren county they wouldn't have to pay penalty for violating the law.

Do other taxpayers have any ideas about this?

First of all, I would like to say that I agree wholeheartedly with Mrs. Russell Irwin about keeping Santa Claus out of the stores this year. Her idea of a Santa Claus parade was carried out in Canada Saturday, Nov. 17, and was broadcast over Radio Station CJBC, a Canadian network. The delighted cheers of thousands of youngsters proved her theory to be correct.

How many children in Warren will be that thrilled over seeing Santa in the stores? Not many, I am sure.

A few years ago I had to do some fast thinking to explain to my five year old son why there was a Santa Claus in every store when there is really only one Santa Claus and I daresay, some of the "Santas" he saw were quite a disappointment.

So what do you say, you mer-

Hal Boyle's Comment

By HAL BOYLE

New York — (AP) — 'Twas the day after Thanksgiving, Wilbur Peble looked pretty feeble as he tottered into the office of his wife's favorite psychiatrist.

"This is a surprise!" said Dr. Libidos. "I was expecting Mrs. Peble."

"I decided to fill Trellis Mae's appointment for her today," said Wilbur.

"H-m-m, that's rather unusual," said the doctor.

chants of Warren, let's have just one Santa Claus in Warren this year and a wonderful, fat, jolly one at that.

I would like to take up another subject now and that is the good "old-fashioned" quarantine for contagious diseases. I understand the only disease one is quarantined for now is polio and scarlet fever.

I have two children with the measles which they got at school, one who is very ill and has been for three days.

If some of the neglectful mothers would keep their children at home when they are ill instead of sending them to school to get them out from under foot, perhaps there would not be so many epidemics. Out of twenty-six first graders only nine were in school one day last week, the rest were out with the measles.

We mothers who love our children ought to get together and see that a law is passed where all persons having a contagious disease are quarantined until all danger of spreading the disease is past.

My little girl, who is seven years old, has developed croup tonight, due to the measles which can easily turn into pneumonia.

I have a nine year old boy and a ten month old girl who will probably get them too. So you see, I have a right to complain about the children who were allowed to carry the measles to school in the first place.

You mothers who let your children go to school with the measles, do you think it was fair? Mrs. Francis J. Dufresne, R. D. 1, Warren, Pa.

I must say. But lie down and take that load off your mind." Wilbur took off his shoes and sank exhausted on the couch. He sighed tiredly.

"Now, just start talking," said Dr. Libidos soothingly. "Say anything that comes into your mind."

"I came to see you about our Thanksgiving Day party yesterday, Doc. I had my family over for dinner—mother, brother Elmo, brother Clarence, his wife, Fay, and their two kids, and my sister, Gloria and her boy friend, Roscoe. I think it's nice to have the family get together like that on holidays, don't you, Doc?"

"Tell me what happened," said the psychiatrist.

"Well, everything went wrong from the start," said Wilbur. "Trellis Mae was making the turkey stuffing, and Mama came into the kitchen and said, 'Wilbur likes more onion in the stuffing than that, dear.' And she put on an apron and pitched right in to help. Don't you think that was nice of her?"

"Ummmm," said the doctor. "Continue."

"Well, the family got to talking about old times, and brother Elmo began kidding me about Esmerelda, my old high school sweetheart. He said she still asked him about me everytime she saw him. Of course, Trellis Mae isn't usually jealous, but..."

"Of course not," agreed the doctor. "Go on."

"Well, while we were discussing that the turkey got burned. Then my two nephews got hungry, and we gave them each a drumstick to quiet them. Well, you know boys will be boys. They began to hit each other with the drumsticks and got gravy stains all over our new sofa."

"Oh, yes, and it was during dinner that Clarence broke the television set. It was a pure accident. He just got up and started twirling the knobs fast, and something broke. It might have happened to anybody."

"Yes, yes. And then?"

"Well, after dinner we were having wine and Fay, my sister-in-law says, 'I don't see how you

Joint Board Will Make Decision On New School Site

According to the Corry Journal a final decision will be made next Wednesday night on where the new $2,090,000 Corry area joint Junior-Senior High School will be erected.

Presidents of school boards in Elgin, Columbus, Spring Creek, Corry, and Wayne and Concord townships were contacted over the Thanksgiving Day holiday, resulting in the scheduling of the session for next Wednesday.

Members of the Joint Committee will meet at the Corry Junior High at 7 o'clock while school board members from the six districts, 32 in all, will meet an hour later.

Attending the session will be Walter Campbell, Altoona architect, who has been assisting the joint board in laying the groundwork for the proposed building program.

The architect has already recommended that the 40-acre plot near the Harding School be procured as the site. In view of his recommendation and the fact that many directors regard the second proposed site along Wayne street as undesirable from a terrain and size standpoint, there appears little doubt but that the Harding site will be selected.

Expected to be made also at the Wednesday session is a decision on how the joint board will procure the acreage from six separate property owners. Prices have been obtained from the group and will be disclosed at the session. On them hinges the question of whether the purchase will be made outright or whether the sale will be handled through court condemnation proceedings with a value being set on the property by court-appointed appraisers.

Warren Officer Is Sent to Okinawa

Second Lieutenant John D. Lesser, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. V. Lesser, 406 Conewango Ave., Warren, Pa., a graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy, class of 1950, has been assigned to duty with the 20th Air Force on Okinawa as a fighter pilot.

Lt. Lesser was one of the graduates of both the Naval and Military Academy's who are chosen each year on a percentage basis to fill qualified openings in the Air Force's Cadet Training program.

He attended Basic, Advanced and Instrument Flying schools in Texas and then went on to the jet base at Williams AFB, Ariz., where he learned to fly the latest and best in jet powered aircraft. A session at Nellis AFB, Nev., equipped him with gunnery and aerial maneuver proficiency and he was then given his current overseas assignment.

Lt. Lesser's squadron on Okinawa is made up for a large part of combat seasoned veterans of the air battles over Korea and

"What You Should Try Is the
New Iodine - Iron - Vitamin
Tonic," Says Mullen Drug Co.

If you are rundown—low spirited—have sleepless nights—no energy—"nerves"—poor appetite, don't be discouraged! Chances are you are just not getting your full daily requirements of the necessary vitamins and minerals from the food you eat.

What you should do is try FERRIZAN—the new dietary supplement and reconstructive tonic. FERRIZAN not only gives you your full quota of many of the essential vitamins but also supplies the equally important Iron for the blood and Iodine for the ductless glands plus needed Calcium and Phosphorus.

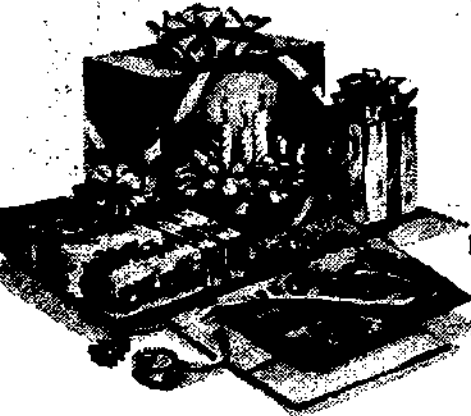

Often in ten days you may feel the difference: your friends notice

it. Back comes your appetite—you should actually feel the urge to eat. Nerves can grow steadier; work easier; you may sleep more soundly.

So why delay? Why not decide now to take FERRIZAN for 30 days and see for yourself just how wonderful FERRIZAN can make you feel. Costs you only a few cents a day. Money refunded if not completely satisfied, says Mullen Drug Co.

SOME ELECTION FORECASTS

A number of election forecasts are found in the following editorial written by Bruce Biossot for NEA Service and the Times-Mirror:

Senator Dirksen, who will run the Taft campaign in his home state of Illinois, also will have a big hand in directing the Republicans' 1952 drive to win control of the Senate. It's not an easy assignment.

Every two years one-third of the Senate—32 seats—normally faces the voters. Next year 33 seats are at stake, since the unexpired term of the late Senator Chapman of Kentucky must also be filled.

But the accidental effect of Senate election mechanics over the years often gives one party or the other a distinct advantage in any particular test at the polls. Thus in 1952, 19 seats now occupied by Republicans will be on the block, against 14 held by Democrats. But of those 14 Democratic berths, six represent states in the Solid South where any turnover is highly unlikely.

This means that the GOP must concentrate all its energies on the remaining eight Democratic seats at stake. To gain minimum control of the Senate, they must take three, since they are now in a 46 to 50 minority. Five more, for a total of 51, would be necessary for a fair working margin.

Dirksen lists Connecticut, Michigan, West Virginia, Kentucky, New Mexico, Arizona and Wyoming as the eight states from which he hopes the GOP may win the three to five posts they need.

Close scrutiny of the list reveals the size of the Republicans' problem. In Wyoming, Democratic Senator O'Mahoney has been in the saddle continuously since 1934. New Mexico's Senator Chavez began his tenure in 1935. Senators McFarland of Arizona and Kilgore of West Virginia have held their posts without interruption since 1941.

Furthermore, each of these four states has a political history with a strong Democratic tinge. That doesn't mean, of course, that they rank with the Solid South. As a matter of fact, Arizona, New Mexico and Wyoming now have Republican governors. But capturing a Senate seat in these four spots is plainly no cinch for the GOP.

Prospects are somewhat brighter in the other four. In Michigan, Senator Moody holds by appointment the seat formerly occupied by the late Senator Vandenberg for more than 20 years. GOP chances here must be rated good, though Moody has the advantage which goes with incumbency: he can make the papers more easily than an opponent.

The Connecticut seat held by Senator Benton also has a Republican history. It was lost when Senator Baldwin resigned in 1949, and Benton managed to squeeze by narrowly last year in a short-term election.

Maryland's recent Republican trend—it put in a GOP governor and senator last year—must inevitably give encouragement to Dirksen and his colleagues. But Senator O'Connor, a member of the Ke-fauver committee now winding up his first term, may be hard to beat. Maryland is a border state, and such territory never can be ranked as easy Republican ground.

Kentucky, another border state, is less promising. It seldom elects a Republican to major office, though it has happened in the last decade. Chapman's seat will be tough to capture.

Beyond question the Republicans face an uphill struggle to take the Senate next year. The situation for them is so tight that some political analysts are saying it will require almost a GOP landslide to turn over enough seats for good control.

The citizen who wants effective government must hope that the 1952 victor at the polls does indeed get a suitable working margin. A Republican presidential triumph with the Senate narrowly held or in Democratic hands would be a calamity in these times. A Democratic win by a similar slender edge would be a calamity in these times. A Democratic win by a similar slender edge would be no better.

Everybody excepting the weatherman cooperated in helping to make the ceremonies incident to turning on the festive Christmas lights Friday afternoon a big success. The Chamber of Commerce and Jaycees are to be commended for the progressive show in helping to make Warren, for the Yuletide season, one of the most attractive towns along the entire Route 6.

Here And There

This 'n That: The Saturday Evening Post came out last week with a Thanksgiving cover by artist Norman Rockwell, Arlington, Vt., but the woman who posed for it last summer died just five days too early to see it; she was Mrs. May Colledge Walker, 67, Arlington widow, who passed away November 15. . . . The L. H. Ludwig Construction Company, of Falconer, has been awarded a contract to build the new Erie Railroad passenger station in Corry, scheduled to be completed by May 1, 1952, at a cost of $45,000. . . . Oil City hospital's $1,143,000 building fund campaign will be launched at 6:30 p. m., Thursday, November 29, when members of all service clubs and their wives gather in the Knights of Columbus auditorium for a point information dinner meeting. . . . Those in charge of the street lighting festivities Friday afternoon insist that it was the merest kind of a coincidence that the cavalcade stopped in the block between Second and Third avenues in Liberty street longer than at any of the other 17 installations. . . Ben Kinnear had an assist from a youngster clad in a red and black jacket, riding a bicycle, as the procession reached the intersection of Hickory and Pennsylvania when the lad jumped from his bike, rushed over and turned the switch on before the major domo could get out of the car. . . . The usual group of eager youngsters chased alongside the car carrying Santa Claus from the start at Crescent street, until the string crossing the avenue near Second, was turned off. . . . And next year, we understand, a new and more influential and powerful committee, probably including Government Observer Jimmy Reier will be in charge of the important project of seeing that favorable weather is dished out for the ceremony.

Weekend Pickups: Wrestling fans will be interested in the announcement that Len Hughes, of Halifax, N. S., gets his first main event shot this evening when he tackles Farmer Jones in the featured event of the wrestling exhibition card at the Colored Roller Rink, that will include a tussle between Chris Tolis, Greek Wildman and Sander Kovacs, with Joe Christy's opponent in the opener to be announced. . . . The holiday lights were not on very long Friday afternoon until something happened to a transformer, which doused them temporarily, until John Fenstermacher and his stalwarts remedied the trouble. . . . Pete Anderson, employed by the company for the past twenty years in various stores including Dunkirk, Olean, Jamestown, North East, etc., has assumed his new duties as assistant to Manager Carlyle Morley, in the local Great Atlantic and Pacific store, planning to move his wife and two boys here as soon as he can locate a house. . . . At different times over the weekend we were approached by interested citizens and taxpayers with ideas for improving the parking situation in the business section, the first suggestion that Market street be widened sufficiently to permit diagonal parking, and the second in the form of a complaint that the spaces for parallel parking are far too small for the larger vehicles. . . . Three members of the Warren barracks of the State Police were in Meadville Saturday attending the funeral of State Secretary of Highways Ray F. Smock. . . . Former staffer Bob Moorhead has forsaken the typewriter and press camera to become a retail grocer. . . . The generous donations of members of Trinity Memorial Episcopal church for St. Barnabas Home will be trucked to the institution some time this week. . . . Perry Weidemeier, governor, headed a delegation of members of Warren lodge that attended a meeting of District 2, Loyal Order of Moose, held Sunday at Emporium, at which time a conference was held by National Ritualistic Chairman Harry Howard with five degree staffs attending. . . . Motorists in Warren, as well as throughout the state over the weekend, started receiving applications for their 1952 drivers licenses, being among the first of approximately 4,000,000 mailed out by the Revenue Department. . . . With the bear season over hunters have laid aside their high-powered rifles for another week, when the deer season gets under way December 3. . . . Bernard Porter, of Spring Creek, has been appointed acting postmaster there, replacing his wife, Mrs. Florence Porter, who resigned last summer and has resumed teaching school, with announcement made that tests to fill the postmastership on a permanent basis will be given at a later date.

Greece Has Long Way to Go To Become Self-Supporting

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

ATLANTA—(NEA)—The question of how long it would be before the United States could end its aid to Greece was raised by a U. S. Senate sub-committee which came through here last summer. It started a lot of soul searching by American officials in Greece.

Brice Mace, Jr., Tennessee farm expert who heads the U. S. agricultural mission, has come up with the answer that Greece might be made self-sufficient in foods in five years—if there are no droughts and if the United States can continue limited aid for that period to complete irrigation projects now planned and under way.

Greece is 78 per cent mountainous. The arable 22 per cent consists of only eight million acres with a million farmers—eight acres per farm. There is some good, unused land on the river deltas, but it needs drainage.

Roger D. Lapham, now head of the Marshall Plan mission to Greece, says it will take twice as long, or ten years, to make Greece more or less industrially self-supporting.

After hearing this size-up from American officials, the question of when United States aid to Greece might be tapered off was put to General Nicholas Plastiras, new prime minister who has just formed a new government.

GREECE cannot be treated like the other countries of Europe, he declared in an interview. The war in Greece did not end in 1945, but in 1949. American aid to Greece this year has already been reduced from $250 million to an estimated $190 million. This will make it necessary for the Greeks to revise their budget.

Over 40 per cent of the Greek budget goes to support of its armed forces. Greece was not asking for luxuries but for the military equipment and necessities of life.

The American people should go out in the country and see how poor the Greek people were, Plastiras declared. Greek per capita income is only $128 a year. (This is double the Turkish average, but only half the Italian average.)

The program which Prime Minister Plastiras is presenting to Parliament calls for a new social and economic policy to improve the living conditions of the working classes. This program, however, is still pretty vague.

In the meantime, with American assistance, a Greek rationing and price-control system is being put into operation in an effort to stem the high cost of living and the terrific inflation. Wholesale commodity prices in Greece are 400 times higher than in 1939.

BEFORE the controls were put into effect, the Marshall Plan gave the Greeks $25 million to build up food reserves for the winter. But the inflationary threat is still here, and with the Greek drachma already selling at 15,000 to the dollar, the political threat is serious. It is hard for anyone in the United States to understand what one of these runaway inflation means. While the U. S. price index has advanced roughly 20 per cent since 1947, the Greek rise is 200 per cent.

The United States will have poured $2 billion into Greece by next June. Over $200 million has been Marshall Plan aid, due to end in June. Military aid totals over $550 million, UNRRA and other post-war relief grants and loans add up to another $550 million. Aid can't be cut off, for no matter how overbearing the Greeks may be, the U. S. is committed. Foreign aid is dedicated to the idea of getting the Greeks on their feet.

So that the Greeks can get on their feet, the U. S. is committed to the idea of getting the Greeks on their feet.

Akeley WSCS Has Plans Under Way For Holiday Events

Entertained at the home of Christie Lundmark, with Myrtle Nelson as co-hostess, members of the Akeley Methodist WSCS made plans for a smorgasbord, bazaar and parcel post sale at the church Wednesday, December 5; also for the Christmas party at the church Thursday evening, December 13. For this latter event, there will be a program, refreshments and exchange of 25-cent gifts and everyone interested is cordially invited.

For the November meeting, a fine dinner was served to 34 persons, including the men. President Grace Grandquist conducted the business session and conducted devotions on the lesson topic, "Thy Will Be Done." Prayer was led by Mrs. John L. Buck and Rose Bradley, spiritual life secretary, conducted a Bible quiz. The roll call showed 14 members and four visitors in attendance.

As one of its Christmas projects, the society is dressing a dozen dolls for children at the Folk State School.

It was reported Ellen Lundgren, secretary of youth work, entertained the Girls' Missionary Society for a Halloween party in October.

Announcement was also made there will be no regular meeting in December and the January session will be held the evening of the 9th at the home of Ora Miller, with Bernice Sears as co-hostess. "B" will be the letter for memory verses and the second chapter of Acts will be the lesson for home study.

ANNOUNCING

For the convenience of our patrons the Redhorse Farm Studio will be located Tuesdays and Fridays at Ruby's Yarn and Knitting Shop, Penna. Ave., W. during the winter months. The rest of the week we will be at our Jackson Run Rd. Studio.

DR. AND MRS. CHARLES H. KELSALL

Announcement is received here that Helen Fowler, of Denver, Colo., formerly of Warren and sister of Mrs. Paul Dell, 108 Roy street, became the bride of Dr. Charles Howard Kelsall, of Boulder, Colo., in a ceremony performed Friday, October 19, in St. Martin's chapel in Denver. The double ring service was read by Canon Watts before 50 guests.

Wearing white lace over nylon net and a net veil attached to a pearl tiara, the bride carried a cascade arrangement of white roses and stephanotis over a white testament. Attending her as maid of honor, Maxine Lewis, of Denver, wore dusky blue organza with satin trim and carried tea roses.

Dr. Richard Johns was best man and Dr. Richard Hames, the usher. After a wedding trip by United Airlines to San Francisco, the newlyweds are residing at 724 South Washington, in Boulder.

Graduate of Warren High School and of WCA Hospital in Jamestown, the bride is a private duty nurse in Denver. Dr. Kelsall was graduated from Boulder schools and University of Colorado School of Medicine. His internship was spent at Indianapolis City Hospital and he is now a pediatrician at Children's Hospital in Denver. He served as an Army captain at the 110th Station Hospital in Vienna, Austria, and was in western Germany for two years before joining the staff of the Denver institution.

Don't Seek Perfection In Everything You Do

YOU'RE a wonderful cook and having 15 or 20 guests to a buffet supper is fun instead of a headache. Yet every time Clara comes out in a new frock she whipped up herself or Barbara starts talking about her job you begin to feel downright stupid.

Well, that's a common fault of housewives. They are much too hard on themselves.

They aren't content to do a few things exceptionally well, most things reasonably well, and to admit that some things just aren't their dish.

They figure they've got to shine at everything. To look as carefully groomed as Mrs. A. To cook as well as Mrs. B. To entertain as effortlessly as Mrs. C. To have as well-mannered children as Mrs. D. To sew as professionally as Mrs. E—and so on.

And all the while Mrs. A, B, C, D, and E are envying each other's talents. They feel frustrated because in this ability or that they fall short of a friend who excels at it.

That sort of envy and low-rating of self isn't just a waste of good time. It's downright destructive.

TIME TO CALL A HALT

SO let's cut it out. Let each of us decide where we shine and be content with that bit of excellence. For the other jobs, let's just do them reasonably well. And when it comes to something we can't seem to do even passably, we might as well admit it is clear out of our line.

Men specialize at their jobs. A paperhanger doesn't mind admitting he doesn't know anything about plumbing.

Women can't specialize to that extent, if their career is homemaking. But they can take pride in the things they ARE specialists in instead of frustrating themselves by the feeling that they ought to be able to win a specialist's rating on any number of jobs.

Planning Holiday Dinner-Program Merkle and Gerus Wed in Nevada

Teachers and officers of First Baptist Sunday school were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Lauffer, Central avenue, for their monthly session, with 16 persons in attendance.

The Rev. Leland Hine, pastor, led the group in a short devotional period and Assistant Blain Lauffer conducted the meeting in the absence of Superintendent Lyell Carr.

Most important business to come before the group were arrangements for the annual Christmas dinner and children's program to be held Wednesday, December 19, with a tureen dinner served at 6:30 o'clock. Following dinner, a program will be presented by the teachers with all the children taking part. Named as committees for the event were the following:

General chairman, Mr. Carr; decoration of dining hall, Baptist Youth Fellowship and Coral Class; tables, men of the Archibald Class; coffee and ice cream, Quaintance Class; boxes of candy for the children's treat, Berean Class; publicity, R. W. Carlson.

The next teachers and officers meeting will be held Thursday, December 11, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Anderson.

ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Alva B. Fuller, Grand Valley, announce the engagement of their daughter, Marilyn Enetta, of Jamestown, N. Y., to LaRue A. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton J. Brown, Torpedo.

Both young people are graduates of Youngsville High School, she in 1947, he in 1943. Miss Fuller is also a graduate of Jamestown Business College, 1948, and is presently employed as bookkeeper at the Jamestown Post-Journal. Mr. Brown served two and one-half years with the U. S. Army Air Force and is employed by the National Forge and Ordnance, Irvine.

The wedding will take place in early summer.

BIRTHDAYS OBSERVED

On Thanksgiving Day, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Larson, Akeley, entertained in honor of their daughter, Ida Grace Larson, and Richard McWilliams, who were celebrating birthday anniversaries. Other dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert McWilliams, Warren. In the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Larson and Sherman Larson, Frewsburg, N. Y., joined the party.

GLEANERS CLASS

Gleaners Class members of Grace Methodist church will hold their regular meeting in the Winger room of the church at 7:45 a. m. Tuesday.

Frances Helen Moynihan Is the Bride Of Richard Francis Driscoll Saturday

At 11:00 a. m. Saturday in St. Mary's church in Batavia, N. Y., Frances Helen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Moynihan, 70 Franklin street, Batavia, became the bride of Richard Francis Driscoll, son of Mrs. J. H. Driscoll and the late Mr. Driscoll, 313 Water street, Warren.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Edward J. Fenger, with the following priests present in the sanctuary: Fathers John E. Nugent, Thomas N. Shephard, Raymond Laska, Bertram Gunderick, and Francis Swiatkowski. Wedding music was by Mrs. George C. Chapple, Batavia organist; Joseph Byron, Buffalo, and Julius Klinkbiel, Batavia, as soloists.

Given in marriage by her brother, Thomas C. Moynihan, Jr., of South Bend, Ind., the bride wore a ballerina gown of white Chantilly lace over heavy satin and carried a bouquet of the valley centered with an orchid. Her gown was fashioned with sweetheart neckline and long, pointed sleeves. A cap of lace which matched her gown held her fingertip veil of illusion net.

Marcella Moynihan, as her sister's maid of honor, chose emerald green velveteen in a ballerina model styled with cap sleeves and full skirt. Another sister, Mrs. Ralph W. Houseknecht, wore American Beauty velveteen in her role as matron of honor.

John Newmaker, Warren, was Mr. Driscoll's best man and ushers were David Hall, Buffalo, and Albert Beuler, Batavia.

The bride's mother selected a plum colored crepe, with which lavia High, is employed in the engineering department of Dox Jarvis Corporation in Batavia. Honoring her with pre-nuptial parties have been the following: William Conlon and Mrs. E. Houseknecht; dinner parties by Dorothy Starrett and Mrs. J. Judd; dinner-dance given by office employees and fellow workers in her department.

PERSONAL ITEMS

Miss JoAnn Hultberg, employed by the McCann and Erickson Advertising Co., New York City, spent the holiday at home with her mother, Mrs. Florence Hultberg, 1009 Pennsylvania avenue, east.

Three timely talks, each one emphasizing the importance of religion in suppressing the Communistic tendencies of today, were given before over 100 K. of C. members and their sons, Sunday morning, at the annual Father and Son communion breakfast in the K. of C. rooms.
 Judge Allison D. Wade, presiding judge of the Warren and Forest county courts, and Rev. Fr. M. E. Dalley, rector of Holy Redeemer church and chaplain of the K. of C. for many years, were followed by the main speaker, Rev. Fr. John Duffy of St. Mary's College at North East.

Nick Mangus, post grand knight, acted as toastmaster and introduced Judge Wade as the man holding the most important office to be bestowed upon any resident of the county. Judge Wade made a vivid comparison of the manner in which children are taught in American and in the Communist-dominated countries, warning his listeners of the threat of such a condition existing here as there is in China where beliefs are forced upon the children.

Father Dalley's brief talk was intended to bring home the real reason for Christmas. He said he regretted the lack of Christ in Christmas. "Yes, the words are Merry Christmas," he said, "but there is no Mary and no Christ in Christmas. There are reindeer and Santa Claus, and people will say 'Come over to our house and see our tree,' but then there is no crib under the tree." He emphasized the need for a return and restoration of religion in the home and pointed out the strong influence of the Church against Communism. He praised the Council for the fine attendance of fathers and sons at mass prior to the breakfast.

The young priest from St. Mary's, Father Duffy, proved to be one of the best speakers heard here in some time. He held the undivided attention of every father and son as he spoke. Telling the story of the martyred Mexican priest, Michael Augustus Pro, and the others who went to death with him because of their attempts to save Christianity in Mexico. He ended his talk with an urge to "live for your faith day by day and prove by example that you are living up to it."

Mr. Mangus introduced Sam Gerardi, Grand Knight of the Warren Council and district deputy of the fifth Pennsylvania district, and

Is Newcomer to Warren

Tall blond Suzanne Broell has been enjoying her free selection of subjects in Warren High School for a week now and prefers it above her schooling in Germany, where her course was picked for her. A native of Hamburg, Germany, Suzanne recently moved to Warren with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Broell, and a 10-year-old sister, Barbara. The family resides at 404 East street and came here following a six-weeks' stay in Queens, N. Y., where they have friends.

Seventeen year old Suzanne, who speaks fluent English, stated that in Germany she was required to study physics, chemistry, math, Latin, history, English, etc., and feels that she can get more out of her studies here with a freer choice. Following her high school education she wishes to go to college and become an architect. Suzanne's hobbies are horseback riding and drawing, and she is very fond of basketball, which she played before coming to this country.

Employed by a local concern, her father, Frank, is continuing his work in the field of engineering. Mr. Broell can also speak English, although the mother, Bertha, and little Barbara, who attends East street school, cannot. The Broell family like Warren very much in preference to the big cities and would like to make this their home.

REBEKAH LODGE BUSY WITH PLANS

Cleo Adolphson and Vera Wood entertained Rebekah members with appropriate Thanksgiving readings at the regular meeting of Lady Warren Rebekah Lodge Friday evening. Members voted to each bring a gift for the children at the Meadville Home, for all ages from three years up, and are reminded to bring them as soon as possible so that shipment may be made.

The vice grand, Florine Larson and her committee, have started plans for the Christmas party to be held December 28. On Friday of this week members will have a social hour following the eight o'clock business meeting.

LUTHERAN EVENTS

Tuesday—8:00, Margaret Zundel Missionary Society meeting in the parish house.
Wednesday—10:00 to 4:00, workshop session.
Thursday—Ladies' Aid Society; 6:15, twelve supper and meeting of Christian Fellowship Class in the church parlors.

The annual thanksgiving service of the missionary societies will be held at 7:30 next Sunday evening, with an excellent film on missionary work in India to be shown.

MEDICAL AUXILIARY

The November meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Warren County Medical Society, held at the YWCA activities building, included a brief business session, after which Mrs. Julius Fino presented Dr. Robert D. Donaldson in an interesting talk on "Malnutrition," illustrated with a colored sound film. The dinner which followed the program was arranged by Mrs. J. T. Valone, chairman, with Mrs. M. T. Smith and Mrs. J. E. Thompson.

VFW AUXILIARY NOTES

Color bearers, the chaplain and musician of Dinsmoor-Schwing Auxiliary, VFW, are asked to be at the post rooms at seven o'clock Tuesday evening for a practice session.

All members of the auxiliary are reminded of the district meeting to be held here next Sunday, December 2, when the women's will be at 2:00 p. m. in the Eagles' building.

SEEKERS CLASS

All members and friends are invited and urged to attend the meeting of Seekers Class of First Evangelical United Brethren church, to be held in the Folkman parlors of the church at 7:45 p. m. Tuesday. The usual devotions and business session will be followed by a social hour and refreshments served by Mrs. Gerald Smith, Mrs. S. F. Custer and Mrs. O. R. Pang.

PERSONAL ITEMS

Miss JoAnn Hultberg, employed by the McCann and Erickson Advertising Co., New York City, spent the holiday at home with her mother, Mrs. Florence Hultberg, 1009 Pennsylvania avenue, east.

Three timely talks, each one emphasizing the importance of religion in suppressing the Communistic tendencies of today, were given before over 100 K. of C. members and their sons, Sunday morning, at the annual Father and Son communion breakfast in the K. of C. rooms.

Judge Allison D. Wade, presiding judge of the Warren and Forest county courts, and Rev. Fr. M. E. Dalley, rector of Holy Redeemer church and chaplain of the K. of C. for many years, were followed by the main speaker, Rev. Fr. John Duffy of the Redemptorist Order, a professor in St. Mary's College at North East.

Nick Mangus, past grand knight, acted as toastmaster and introduced Judge Wade as the man holding the most important office to be bestowed upon any resident of the county. Judge Wade made a vivid comparison of the manner in which children are taught in American and in the Communist-dominated countries, warning his listeners of the threat of such a condition existing here as there is in China where beliefs are forced upon the children.

Father Dalley's brief talk was intended to bring home the real reason for Christmas. He said he regretted the lack of Christ in Christmas. "Yes, the words are Merry Christmas," he said, "but there is no Mary and no Christ in Christmas. There are reindeer and Santa Claus, and people will say 'Come over to our house and see our tree,' but there is no crib under the tree." He emphasized the need for a return and restoration of religion in the home and pointed out the strong influence of the Church against Communism. He praised the Council for the fine attendance of fathers and sons at mass prior to the breakfast.

The young priest from St. Mary's, Father Duffy, proved to be one of the best speakers heard here in some time. He held the undivided attention of every father and son as he spoke. Telling the story of the martyred Mexican priest, Michael Augustus Pro, and the others who went to death with him because of their attempts to save Christianity in Mexico. He ended his talk with an urge to "live for your faith day by day and prove by example that you are living up to it."

Mr. Mangus introduced Sam Gerardi, Grand Knight of the Warren Council and district deputy of the fifth Pennsylvania district, and

COUNTY NURSES TO NAME OFFICERS

The Warren County Nurses' Association, holding an important meeting at eight o'clock this evening at the Warren County Dairy social room, will elect officers and hear the final reading of by-laws for the newly-formed organization.

ERROR IN DATE

It was incorrectly reported in a previous issue that Martha Society members will sponsor a sauerkraut supper tomorrow evening at Emanuel Evangelical and Reformed church. The affair is taking place Thursday evening instead.

SUCCESSFUL DANCE

Reports indicate a very successful Thanksgiving dance was held Saturday evening by Warren Lodge, BPOE, with Graham's Orchestra providing the music. "Eleven o'clock Toast" was given by Exalted Ruler L. M. White-shot.

Is Newcomer to Warren

Tall blond Suzanne Broell has been enjoying her free selection of subjects in Warren High School for a week now and prefers it above her schooling in Germany, where her course was picked for her. A native of Hamburg, Germany, Suzanne recently moved to Warren with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Broell, and a 10-year-old sister, Barbara. The family resides at 404 East street and came here following a six-weeks' stay in Queens, N. Y., where they have friends.

Seventeen year old Suzanne, who speaks fluent English, stated that in Germany she was required to study physics, chemistry, math, Latin, history, English, etc., and feels that she can get more out of her studies here with a freer choice. Following her high school education she wishes to go to college and become an architect. Suzanne's hobbies are horseback riding and drawing, and she is very fond of basketball, which she played before coming to this country.

Employed by a local concern, her father, Frank, is continuing his work in the field of engineering. Mr. Broell can also speak English, although the mother, Bertha, and little Barbara, who attends East street school, cannot. The Broell family like Warren very much in preference to the big cities and would like to make this their home.

country will be wondering just how good the experts are. The answer is that they vary somewhat, just as some big league baseball players are better than others. All of the experts are pretty good, however, chiefly because they have trained themselves to think clearly and carefully at the bridge table.

LITTLE LIZ

Look trouble in the face and laugh at it—unless your trouble is your wife or your boss.

Today's hand, played at a recent national championship, shows the sort of thinking that goes on when expert meets expert. The hand was played at many tables, and in most cases South got to six diamonds. This was a very reasonable contract, of course, depending only on "fudging" the queen of diamonds.

At some tables the West player opened the ace of hearts. At these tables, the South player reasoned something like this: "Why did West open an ace against the slam contract? Did he have reason to believe that his ace would go to sleep if he failed to take it at once? Or did he have a possible trump trick, and was he therefore cashing a side ace to make sure of setting the slam?"

In each of these cases South felt fairly sure that West had no sound reason for feeling nervous about his ace of hearts. Each of them therefore decided to finesse through West for the queen of diamonds. The finesse succeeded, and the slam was made.

At a few tables, West was sure that to open the ace of hearts would cause South to guess the location of the queen of diamonds. North's jump to five diamonds indicated that a high diamond would turn up in the dummy, so West could tell that declarer would be able to finesse in diamonds if he wanted to.

At these tables, therefore, the West player opened the nine of clubs. Dummy won with the king of clubs and returned the jack of hearts for a pretended finesse. West therefore got his ace of hearts and could exit safely with another club. In each of these cases the slam was set when South misguessed the trumps.

In short, some declarers made the slam by careful thought, and some defenders defeated the slam by giving the declarer nothing to think about.

INJURED IN FALL
Garfield Gamble, employee of the Guastavino Company of Woodburn, Mass., was injured at 9:30 a. m. today when he fell from a scaffolding while at work in the new recreation building at Warren State Hospital. He was taken to Warren General Hospital in the Templeton ambulance and given emergency treatment. X-ray pictures had not revealed the extent of his injuries late this afternoon. Mr. Gamble was engaged in placing acoustic stone when he fell. The Guastavino Company is subcontractor for Orman and Reitz, who are building the new structure. Mr. Gamble's local address was given as 25 N. State street, North Warren.

CLASS OFFICERS
Lindsay Steen, chairman of the awards committee of Warren High School Student Council, announces the following elected to class offices: senior class—co-presidents, Ronald Carlson and June Odmark; secretary, Minnie Bonavita; treasurer, Dave Berdine. Junior class—co-presidents, John Shea and Toni Mitchell. Sophomore class—co-presidents, Bruce Duell and Peggy Eaton; secretary, Pat Harrington; treasurer, Charles Salerno. The secretary and treasurer of the junior class are the only positions still to be filled.

MR. CALDERWOOD ILL
W. S. Calderwood, former Kane banker and industrialist, is reported today as being in serious condition at his home in Kane. Mr. Calderwood, who is the father of G. C. Calderwood of Warren, was recently moved home from St. Vincent's Hospital, Erie. Another son, John (Jeff) Calderwood lives next door to his father in Kane.

SEE YALE-HARVARD GAME
Four Warren college students held a reunion in the east to spend Thanksgiving in New York and attend the Yale-Harvard game at New Haven, Conn. Saturday. In the party were Bob Blair and Fred Prinz, University of Johns Hopkins, Dave Brown, Harvard, and Hal Conarro, Dartmouth.

18 Dead, 60 Hurt in Collision of Streamline Trains
(From Page One)

K. C. Shultz, division superintendent of the Alabama Great Southern (A.G.S.) division of the Southern Railway, said there was no indication that safety signals which should have stopped the South-erner on its siding were not working. The northbound train had gone into the siding to allow its south-bound companion train to pass. The 13-car Crescent was a few minutes behind the other south-bound train. Shultz said the Crescent probably was running at about 60 miles an hour when it hit.

MURDER IN TAVERN
Pittsburgh, Nov. 26—(P)—Seized by tavern patrons after a shooting in which 45-year-old Willie Deer was slain, Jesus Muica, 51, is under arrest today on a murder charge. Homicide detectives George Kelley and Francis Flannery who made the arrest said Muica had been drinking Saturday night and could not give a coherent account of the shooting.

FOR MAPLE LEAF PILOTS—One of 48 Sabre jets is swung aboard the Canadian aircraft carrier HMCS Magnificent at the Norfolk, Va. Navy Yard. The planes will be used in England by Canadian pilots under the Atlantic Pact plan to strengthen the defenses of Europe.

CUSTOM IN ITALY—It's bad enough to go to school, according to children all over the world, but the boys in Italy have something extra to worry about: they must wear this black frock and white bow tie, too. Little Maurizio Puppo, in Rome, gets a final check from mama, but the reflection from the mirror does not indicate that the lad is happy about it.

HOW TO CARVE THAT TURKEY
PROPER TECHNIQUE—Place the bird with the breast toward the left of the carver, upper left. Place the knife between the thigh and body and cut through skin to the joint. Separate by pressing leg outward with knife and bending leg back with a fork, upper right. The drumstick may be served whole or the dark meat may be sliced for service on each plate.
SLICING—The wing may be disjointed and separated from the body the same as the leg, or it may be left on the bird to give balance during carving. After the horizontal cut is made, slice downward with straight, even strokes, lower left, beginning halfway up the breast. When knife reaches cut above wing bone, the slices will fall free, lower right.

WEIGH OF ALL FLESH—Clarence G. Phoebeus, of Elizabeth, N.J., inflicts punishment on the scales at the Army recruiting station in Newark during his draft physical examination. The obese guttaur p... er out-weighed the scale which records only 300 pounds. Phoebeus carries 25 more pounds than that.

FOR THE KIDS—West-Berlin Senator for Social Affairs Otto Bach fits a coat on a needy German child as Martin Sandberg, of Norway and Deputy Chief of the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund, looks on. The presentation was made at commemorative ceremonies for the founding of the UN staged by the German Senate in the U.S. sector of the city.

PARTY QUILTING—Quilted pink silk taffeta makes this simple, yet attractive, informal party dress. Designed by Anne Fogarty in New York, it features a wide, rounded neckline, fitted bodice and a very full skirt to delight the fashion sense of the discriminating.

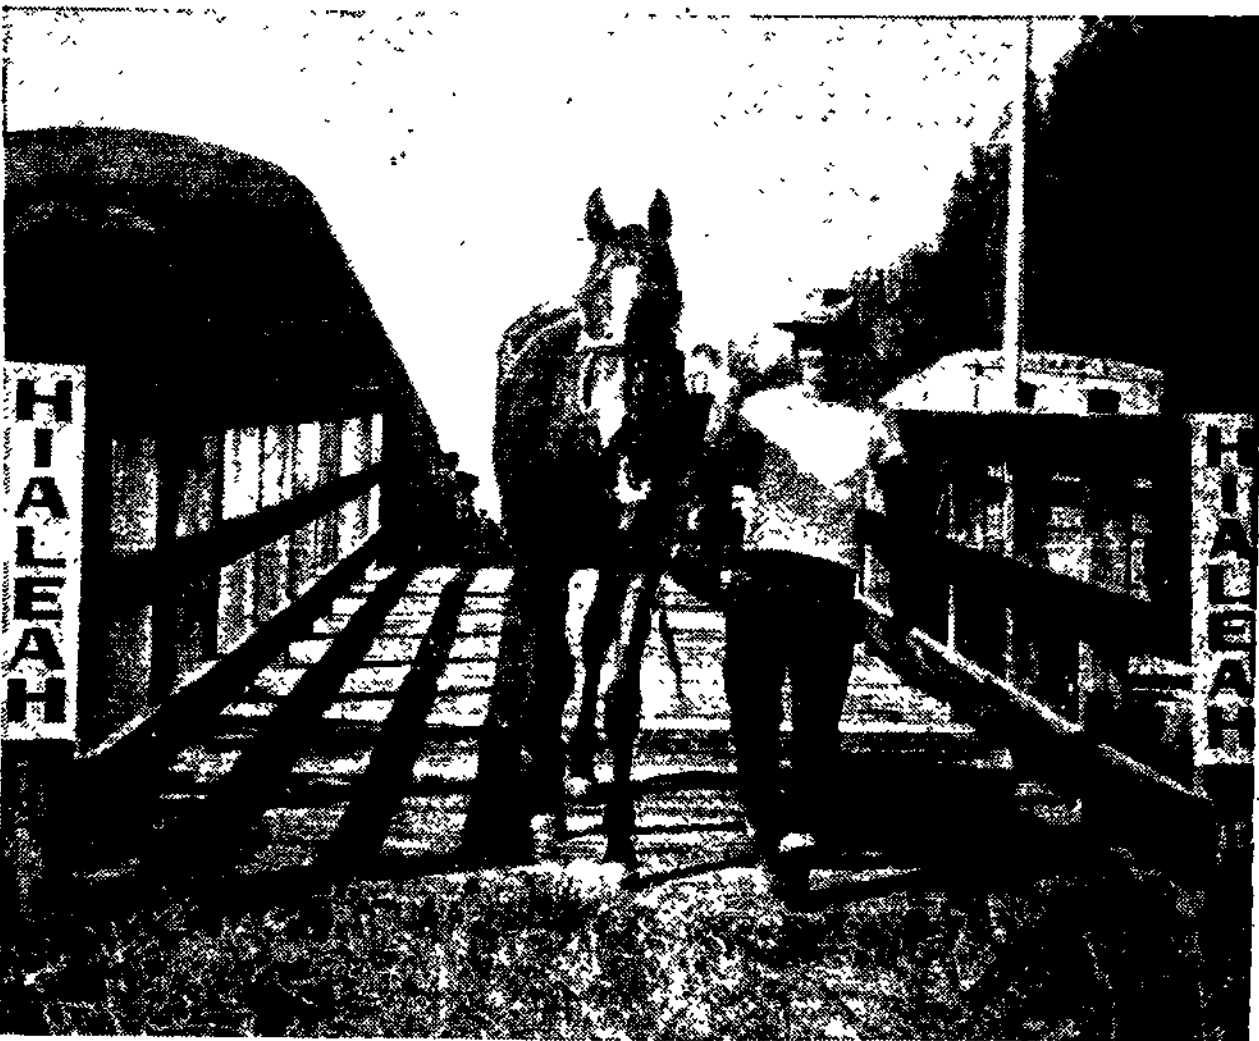

BY REMOTE CONTROL—Using a long-pronged pole to remove prickly pears from their thorny plants, a peasant girl in Cagliari, Sardinia, harvests one of the crops of the primitive island. Used as a table serving on the mainland, the fruit is restricted to the use of livestock feed by the islanders who are too accustomed to it to consider it a delicacy.

ALL IN VAIN—Eager to get a souvenir football an unidentified boy in Los Angeles leaps from the stands to make a mid-air catch during a game. Despite the protests of the fans, the officer, lower left, returned the ball to the playing field.

SARONG TO CIRCUS—Dorothy Lamour is shown indulging in some off-set play in Hollywood with Buzzy Potts, a clown with the Ringling Bros. Circus. Dotty and other top Hollywood stars appear as circus performers in Cecil de Mille's new film, "The Greatest Show on Earth," and they look mighty convincing, too.

OFF TO THE RACES—The first thoroughbred led off the loading platform at Florida's Hialeah Park race track was Low and High. As most Northern tracks approached their final meets of the season, the balmy southern state opened its stables to neighbors from chillier regions.

A-CITY LEAGUE BASKETBALL TO GET UNDER WAY AT 7 TONIGHT

GOOD GAMES SCHEDULED TO OPEN SEASON

The curtain will be drawn up on the official opening of the Y. C. A.-City Basketball League tonight when Texas Lunch clashes with the Warren Business School at 7 o'clock. The Rockets and the Shop meet at 8 o'clock for a second scrap of the evening.

The practice game series, Rockets led with three victories and no losses, edging last year's champs, the Style Shop, 20, and then went on to blast 28, 60-28, and nose Texas Lunch 43.

Texas Lunch ranked second with one and one, the Style Shop and antic each with one win and a WBS one and two, and Youngville three straight defeats. Teams returning to the league this year are the Style Shop, Rockets, and Atlantic, with Wigan Chevrolet of Youngville replacing the Youngville Merchants, and Texas Lunch and Warren Business School filling in the vacancies left by the Ramblers in a New Process.

Players have also done some fighting. Scoring ace Bill Weidner moved from Atlantic to WBS this season, while the Rambler's number one in the race for points, a Peterson, is now with the Rockets. The defending champs led a great player in Gail Nelson, in the Army, but retained Bob Simpson and picked up Bill Massa, a Baldensperger and Dan Jackson from Atlantic, Process and Rockets respectively.

Just what each team will be doing is hard to say until the game gets going, but from all indications given so far, Texas Lunch, the Style Shop and Rockets seem to have the most.

NCAA Approves Ten Bowl Games, Plans Future Limitation

Chicago, Nov. 26—(AP)—Marking the first effort to bring under control and inspection the mushrooming bowl football games since the war, the National Collegiate Athletic Association today officially approved 10 bowl contests.

Those certified as meeting NCAA requirements are the Sugar Bowl, New Orleans; Refrigerator, Evansville, Ind.; Rose, Pasadena, Calif.; Presidential Cup, Washington, D. C.; Gator, Jacksonville, Fla.; Orange, Miami, Fla.; Cotton, Dallas, Tex.; Sun, El Paso, Tex.; Salad, Phoenix, Ariz. and Pear, Medford, Ore.

The Presidential Cup bowl game recently was cancelled by the sponsoring American Legion.

Requirements unanimously approved in principle at the NCAA 1950 convention cover competition by member institutions, collegiate representation on the administrative committees of the games, game officials, allocation of tickets and distribution of receipts.

NCAA by-laws stipulate that "no member institution shall compete in any such football game unless such contest is certified" x x x and "no member institution shall participate in more than one such game during any academic year."

Any of the 324 member schools of the NCAA playing in uncertified games could be held in bad standing by the organization. This could lead to expulsion from membership and schedule boycotting.

Officials said the Pretzel Bowl game played Saturday at Reading, Pa., did not need certification because it was scheduled by Albright College and West Chester teachers before their regular season began.

The NCAA council last week proposed a moratorium on signing contractual commitments for bowl games through 1962. Meantime, a study is to be made by the extra events committee of pressures that may create over-emphasis through bowl contests.

UMPIRE BOXER — Bobby Thompson gets plenty of attention from his dog as he practices a few chip shots in the backyard of his Staten Island home. Favor Penn State Out of 18 Entered In Big Race Today

East Lansing, Mich., Nov. 26—(AP)—Penn State, the defending champion and 1954 winner, was favored to win the team title today at the thirteenth annual NCAA cross country run over a four mile Michigan State College course.

Prospects were for a fast course and frosty temperature of around 30 degrees.

Eighteen other colleges had full teams entered. Individual entries from eight schools swelled the field to a total of 138 runners.

Kansas, the Big Seven champion, Michigan State, Big Ten winner, Syracuse, Wisconsin and North Carolina State also were expected to make strong bids for the team title.

Others entering full teams included Bowling Green of Ohio, Drake University, Indiana University, Miami of Ohio, Michigan State Normal, Notre Dame, Oberlin of Ohio, Pittsburgh, Purdue, Tennessee, Western Michigan, Wheaton and Wooster of Ohio.

Individual runners are entered from Case Tech, Illinois, Iowa University, Loyola of Chicago, Marquette, San Francisco State College, Western Reserve, and Central Michigan.

Herb Semper, running for the University of Kansas, is the individual defending champion. Wisconsin's Bill Deike, Al Holmberg of Tennessee, Bill Ashenfelter and West State of Penn State, and Ray Osterhout of Syracuse were expected to be among the front runners.

The starter's gun goes off at 11:30 a. m. The meet record of 19:52.3 was set by Bob Black of Rhode Island State in 1948.

Ontario and Quebec are Canada's leading fur-producing provinces.

Through The Wind Tunnel

Members of the Borough Street Department were given fine assistance Saturday when a group of cute little (some a little bigger) girls dressed in short skirts and wearing nice, big green ribbons in their hair, were busy scrubbing parking meters with their tooth brushes.

Speaking of parking meters, we haven't seen anyone look so confused as Charlie Mathis, Friday, when, apparently, the meter he was parked beside wasn't functioning. The poor man just couldn't make up his mind whether it was safe to leave it. He would start away and quickly run back for fear of . . . maybe the officer.

Those same little girls with the green ribbons were on hand at the Canteen dance Saturday night and made it easy for the boys to find someone to dance with. They did the asking, which is rather unusual around here. We would like to tell who is responsible for their actions, but we did ask one and she didn't seem too sure herself.

Farrell High footballers, rolled over Munhall, 15-0, Friday night at Ambridge to win the WPIAL Class AA crown.

Corry sport fans are looking forward to seeing some high class football teams through the 1954 season now that Coach Lou Hanna has signed a new three-year contract.

Alex M. Leiper, a native of Scotland who has been associated with the Brookfield Club at Buffalo for the past three years, was recently named pro at Meadville Country Club for the 1952 season.

According to "Quick" we'll be seeing more college football games on television next year.

The resignation of Steve Sevok, athletic coach at Oil City St. Joseph's High School since September 1950, has been accepted, effective at the close of the first semester in January . . . Sevok, a Youngville boy, plans to further his education in the field of education before taking another coaching position.

George "Ace" Hesch made good four out of four free throws and found the hoop for two FG's to score eight points for the Gannon Knights in their 71-55 loss to Canisius at Buffalo over the weekend.

MARYLAND-TENNESSEE GAME LEADS BOWL ATTRACTIONS; ILLINOIS vs. STANFORD NEXT

By ED CORRIGAN
New York, Nov. 26—(AP)—With the exception of the Army-Navy affair and a few scattered games across the country this week, the book was closed today on the 1951 college football season.

The participants in two of the four major bowls have been decided and one team has been selected for each of the other two.

The consensus seems to be that the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans has the best teams for the annual New Year's Day games. The Rose Bowl probably will be next, followed by the Cotton and the Orange.

Unbeaten Tennessee, the nation's No. 1 team, and Maryland, currently ranked No. 4, collide in the Sugar Bowl and it should be a battle to see. On the basis of its stunning 28-0 victory over Kentucky Saturday, the Vols probably will rule favorites.

Maryland, too, scored a thumping triumph, defeating West Virginia, 54-7. Both teams have been accused at various times of playing soft schedules, but they both hurried every obstacle in their path.

The Rose Bowl gets Illinois and Stanford, champions, respectively, of the Big Ten and Pacific coast conferences.

California, the September favorite on the coast, finally did beat Stanford, 20-7, in the final game of the season for both schools. But it was too late to hurt the Indians in their quest for the title. However, it did put an end to Stanford's bid to end the season undefeated.

Illinois made it, but not by much. In fact, it was a field goal by Sam Rebecca in the 12-degree freeze of Evanston that enabled the Illini to defeat Northwestern, 3-0, and win the championship.

The Cotton Bowl will send Kentucky to battle the champion of the southwest conference, which has not been decided. However, Texas Christian has the inside track at the moment. The Horned Frogs' 22-6 decision over Rice Saturday broke a first-place tie.

But favorites fall more often than they stand in the Southwest Conference, and T.C.U. still must play Southern Methodist, which dropped a 14-13 decision to Baylor. Texas still must play Texas A. and M., and Baylor has to tangle with Rice. So it still could go almost any way.

Georgia Tech, which has been able to rest easy for the past two weeks, having been the first team selected for a major bowl assignment—the Orange—kept in fighting trim by downing Davidson, 34-7. The Engineers are marking time until their opponent is determined.

It may turn out to be one of the Southwest Conference teams or possibly Oklahoma, which wrapped up its fourth straight Big Seven title by polishing off Nebraska, 27-0.

High School Squad Pared to Workable Size in Practices

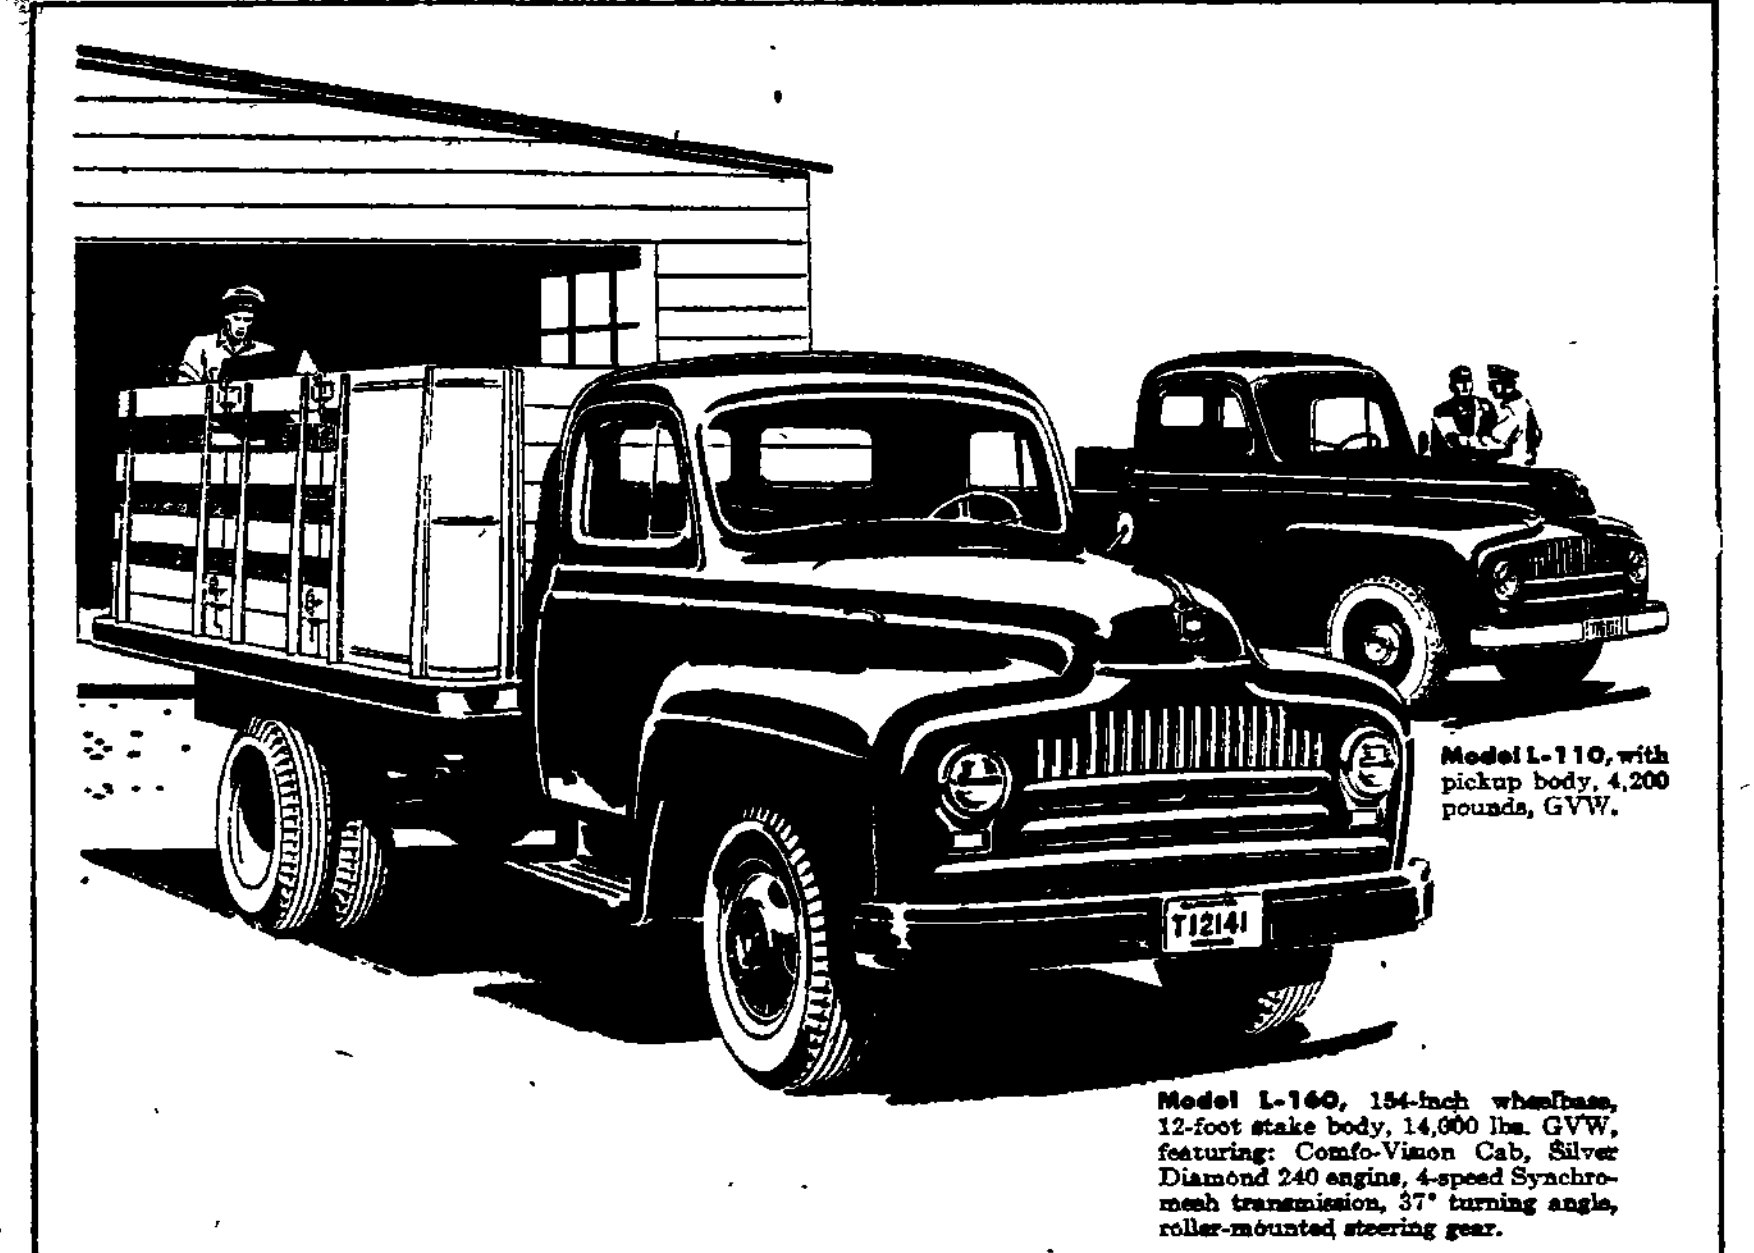

While Coach Joe Massa has not yet made a definite segregation between his Warren High varsity and jayvee squads, he has whittled his squad to a workable size of 22 men. By tomorrow, the head mentor plans to have his separate teams, but with the new system a number of changes may be made once the season gets started.

The present group is made up of nine seniors, six juniors and seven sophomores. Seniors are Larry Anderson, Dave Berdine, Bob Ebach, Ben Patrick, Carl Falvo, Bernie Gray, Jon Pearson, Rickey Scabee and Jack Mowell; juniors—Ronnie Issacson, Dick Hartnett, Bob Harrington, Dick Lundahl, Bob Wilson and Ron Wood; sophomores—Jerry Gordon, Bruce Duell, Bob Cramer, Gary Ettinger, Bill Erickson, Bob Koebly and Don Dick.

Although the squad has been pared down to this group, other boys who tried out have been assigned to the third squad and will have the opportunity to move up the ladder. Meaning those already picked will have to keep clicking or be dropped down.

According to Massa the starting berths are still open, as well as all varsity positions. However, there will be no seniors on the Jayvees.

The name of Rio de la Plata, in South America, means River of Silver.

Platoon System Has First Team Running Against Third

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—A star New England high school halfback was lassoed by a southern college. His old coach heard nothing of the lad as a sophomore, and when he returned home for the holidays asked him why.

"I made the mistake of making some tackles," explained the youngster, "but it won't happen again."

"You'll hear of me next Fall, when I'll be on the offensive team," the coach did. The young man, you see, just quit making tackles.

That, my friends, is what the platoons have brought college football to.

Two years ago, Arthur Sampson, the long-time college coach, in a slick magazine piece predicted that the unit idea would kill the inter-collegiate game in five years. Well, the group scheme certainly hasn't done it any good. Platoon football hasn't one good point, despite the arguments of its coaching defenders.

Football long made a man of the boy. It taught him cooperation, self-sacrifice, made him overcome his weaknesses until he was an all-round player for the good of the team.

Football now encourages the athlete to be deceitful and selfish.

In these days of specialization, the combatant does only what he wants to do. If he doesn't like to tackle, he doesn't bother to, and plays on the offense. If he doesn't care about blocking, he knows he'll get to play on the defense.

What platoon football in the colleges simmers down to is the first team attacking the third team, which accounts for the big scores. In most cases, the attacking team is the first team, which is backed-up by the second team. That leaves the fourth-strangers to support the third-team defenders.

So the coach with 60 men finally beats the one with 40, something like 48-35, without proving a thing.

A coach of one of the major schools traced the greater number of injuries to lack of condition. The reason for this is that players who know they are going to be used only part time, don't work as hard as those who prepared to go all the way.

A superior running guard at Princeton last Autumn lost interest and quit because he was being employed in only the one direction. Opponents were everlastingly whacking him. He longed to be where he could whack back.

No one is satisfied with platoon football, least of all the spectator.

Detroit Lions Head Nat. Conference

New York, Nov. 26—(AP)—The Detroit Lions want you to know their youthful coach, Buddy Parker, knew what he was talking about when he said "If somebody beats the Chicago Bears, we'll win the title in the National Conference of the National Football League."

Look at the standings today and you'll see what the Lions mean. Detroit tops the National Conference with a record of six victories, two defeats and one tie.

The Bears and Los Angeles Rams are deadlocked for second place with six wins and three setbacks each. And they meet next week in another one of the league's naturals. A defeat will just about shove either one out of the running.

A bullet was found in an ivory billiard ball which had no hole in its surface. The bullet had been shot into the tusk of an elephant, and the ivory had closed over the hole, leaving no trace of the bullet's entrance.

Two Hurt in Three Accidents Probed By the State Police

State police report three accidents over the weekend, in one of which two persons were injured. Property damage was estimated at $1375.

Mrs. Frank Tamburine, of Warren, sustained painful bruises about the face, and her husband a laceration of the forehead, when their car struck another car operated by Lorenz Williams, of Akeley R. D. 1, on the Kiantone Road about 1:45 a. m. Sunday. Both were treated and discharged at Warren General Hospital.

State police, who investigated, said that Williams had stopped on the road and that vision of his car was obscured because of a curve. The Tamburine car, rounding the curve, struck Williams car, unable to see the parked vehicle in time to stop. Damage to the Tamburine car was estimated at $400 and to Williams about $75.

About $700 damage, but no injuries, occurred on Route 6 in Sheffield township about one a. m. Saturday when Joe Piehuta, of Sheffield, drove his car into the rear of another car operated by Ray M. Ready, also of Sheffield. Both cars were headed east.

About 8:30 p. m. Saturday, a collision occurred near the Moore farm at Garland when Richard Smith, of Torpedo R. D. 1, stopped his truck on the road because of failure of the lights. While stopper there, the truck was struck by a car operated by Robert L. Vanderhoof, of Garland. No one was injured.

Damage to the truck was slight, and to the Vanderhoof car about $200, police said.

Sheffield to Open Season Tues. Night

Sheffield high school's cage season gets underway Tuesday evening on the home court when the Wolverines play host to Tionesta. The junior varsity quintets will go into action at 7 p. m. with the main event getting started shortly after 8 p. m.

Coach Ralph Santo has 11 hoopers making up the varsity group and during drills this week has been working out various combinations of players for use in the opening game. All are expected to see action.

The National Geographic Society says the word "turnpike" springs from the pikes used as gates on early toll roads, turned aside to open the way.

Obituaries

HARRY L. RICHARDS

Harry L. Richards, 57, of Youngville, died about 10 a. m. Saturday at Warren General Hospital where he had been a patient since Wednesday night following a heart attack. He was born at Garland, April 1, 1894.

Mr. Richards was shipping foreman of the Youngville Star Manufacturing Company and had been employed there for the past 32 years. He was also a member of Dinamoor-Schwung Post, VFW, of Warren.

Surviving him are his wife, Isabel; two sons, John, of Highland Park, Mich., and Harry, Jr., of New York City; one stepdaughter, Mrs. Betty Rodgers, of Pittsfield; five grandchildren; his mother, Mrs. Nettie Richards, and two brothers, Cleve and Bert, all of Youngville.

Friends are being received at the Young Funeral Home, and services will be held there at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday, with Rev. E. K. Rogers, pastor of First Lutheran church, of Warren, officiating. Burial will be made in Garland cemetery.

ELWOOD JOHN ERIKSEN

Services were held at the Templeton Funeral Home at 2:00 p. m. Saturday in memory of Elwood John Eriksen, former Warren resident who died Wednesday in Hartford, Conn. The Rev. E. W. Chavester, pastor of Frewsburg Methodist church, conducted the rites and the following members of Chief Cornplanter Post 135, American Legion, served as bearers for interment in Westview cemetery at Starbuck: Commander Louis Vizza, Eugene Pring, John Haggerty, Harry Schmidt, James Seager and James Torrance.

In attendance from away were Mrs. Lydia Eriksen and son, Elwood John Eriksen, Erie; Mr. and Mrs. Angelo David, Meadville.

STANLEY IVAN SEARS

Stanley Ivan Sears, 58 year old county resident, died at 7:30 a. m. Saturday at the Rouse Hospital in Youngville. Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Ernest Faust, Wrightsville; a niece and a nephew, Miss Evelyn Faust and Kenneth Faust, both of Jamestown.

Removal has been made to the Schoonover Funeral Home in Sugar Grove, where services in his memory will be held at 2:00 p. m. Tuesday. The Rev. Edgar Johnson will officiate and interment will be made in Wrightsville cemetery.

ELISHA SOLINGER

Elisha Solinger, resident of Russell for many years and better known to his wide circle of friends as "Lish", died at 9:30 p. m. Sunday in Jamestown General Hospital.

He was born in Parkers Landing on July 24, 1877, and had been a resident of Russell for the past 53 years. He was a retired employee of the New York Central Railroad Company, having worked for that firm for 25 years.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Charles Donelson, Panama, N. Y.; also several nieces and nephews.

Removal has been made to the Lutz-VerMilyea Funeral Home, where friends will be received at the usual calling hours, starting at seven o'clock this evening. Services will be conducted at the funeral home at 2:00 p. m. Wednesday by Rev. John L. Buck, pastor of Russell Methodist church, assisted by Rev. Gustav Erickson, Lander Methodist minister. Interment will follow in Pine Grove cemetery at Russell.

MRS. A. J. MASCARO

Lena Lucile, wife of Anthony J. Mascaro, 20 South Carver street, died at seven o'clock Saturday morning at the family home, having been ill for the past several months.

Born in Union City on December 14, 1910, she came to Warren as a small girl and had lived here since. She was a member of Holy Redeemer parish and of Court Warren 834, Catholic Daughters of America.

Besides her husband, she leaves two daughters, Joan and Carol Saglimbene, at home; two sisters, Prudence Cardman and Mrs. Anthony Smoona, both of Warren.

Friends are being received at her home and the parish rosary will be recited there at eight o'clock this evening. Services in her memory will be held at Holy Redeemer church at 9:00 a. m. Tuesday, followed by interment in St. Joseph's cemetery.

CARL G. MOURER

Carl G. Mourer, 70, of Youngville, a lifelong resident of that area, died at Warren General Hospital at one a. m. today following a long period of ill health. He was a member of Youngville Free Methodist church.

Surviving him are his wife, Lena; two sons and three daughters; Loren, of Chanders Valley, and Plumer of Youngville; Mrs. Dorothy Peterson, of Youngville, and Mrs. Clara Littlefield and Mrs. Jessie Chamberlain, both of Bradford; three brothers and two sisters; Dan, Herman, Larry and Mrs. Frank Martin, all of Youngville, and Mrs. Lloyd Crozier, of Huntington Beach, California; also 16 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

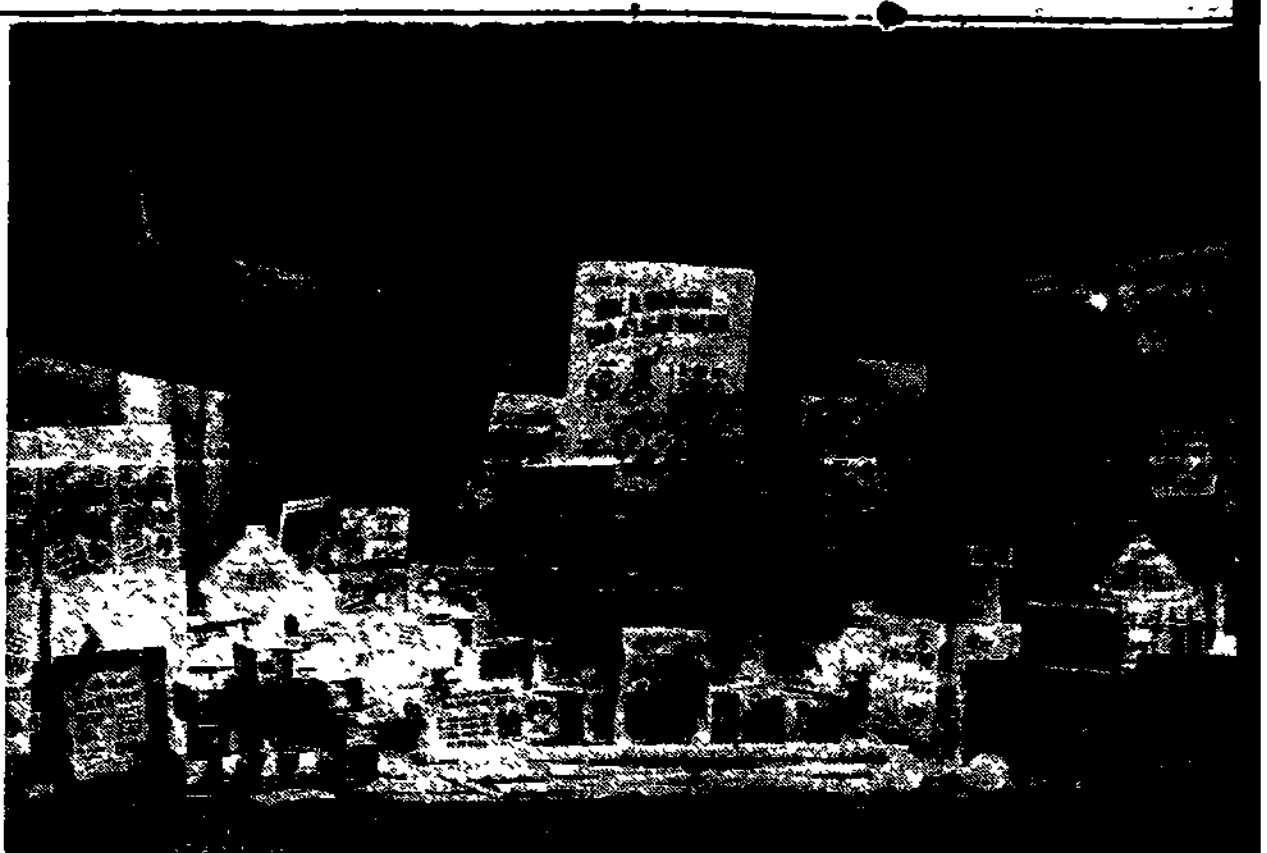

Removal has been made to the Young Funeral Home where friends will be received beginning at 7 p. m. today with the exception of Tuesday afternoon.

Famous Quartet Heard at Hospital

What the staff at the West State Hospital describes as one of the finest entertainments ever given there took place, Friday evening, with the appearance of the nationally famous West house Quartette, of Pittsburg and 84 members of the West Chapter of SPEBSA.

The Westinghouse singing brought to Warren through efforts of Charles Duff and others who are acquainted with the quartet, made a lasting impression on all who heard them. They have promised to return to State Hospital for another concert in 1952. The local Barbershop also made a big hit with its numbers.

One of the features of the evening was music provided by Mary Konestaba of Sheffield, member of the hospital staff, cordonist.

The old chapel at the hospital was jammed to capacity for the program.

BARNES

Barnes, Nov. 24 — Mrs. Mary Ayers, of the Warren County Extension Service, held a meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shaw, the lesson for the day being the tying of springs and re-upholstering. There were 22 present for the delicious tureen dinner served about noon. During the afternoon, there was a meeting of the W.S.C.S., with the president, Mrs. John Burns, in charge. It was decided to have a Christmas party in December. Mrs. Harold Miller had the lesson for the day and Mrs. Lyle closed the meeting with prayer. Out of town guests at these meetings were Mr. and Mrs. Otto Mayer, Rev. and Mrs. Grant Mottern, Sheffield; Mr. and Mrs. Will Duck, Kane.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hover, Mrs. W. D. Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Alling motored to Eldred last Tuesday to pay their respects to the late Harry Boyd. The latest reports from John MacMartin, Jr., who is a patient in the Olean Hospital, are rather discouraging. He has been found to have a crushed pelvis along with other fractures, and it is rather doubtful whether he will ever see again. His many friends here are offering their best wishes for his recovery.

Barnes, Nov. 24 — Thomas Baker who had returned to Washington, D. C., Friday, was called here this week by the illness of his wife, nee Ruth Silvia, who had remained for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Silvia. She has been a patient in Kane Summit Hospital for several days.

Ralph Stuck and Fred Deetz and son, Dick, of Dempseytown, and Mr. and Mrs. George Barrett and son, Bill, of Franklin, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Holden.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Curtin and daughter, Robin, of Randolph, N. Y., were weekend guests at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Curtin.

The biggest news in this section this week is the twelve inches of snow, which the weatherman dished out over the weekend. Many bear hunters are staying at local homes and camps about town are filled for the sport.

Mrs. William Lindberg of Sheffield, visited Mrs. Ed Rudolph, Thursday.

Cpl. Ray Wolfe arrived home, Monday, being called here by the death of his grandmother, Mrs. Mary Harley.

Mrs. O. E. Haupt of Youngsville is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. H. Brandt, this week. She too, came to attend funeral services for Mrs. Harley.

SUGAR GROVE

Sugar Grove, Nov. 24 — Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gruber entertained Sunday at an early Thanksgiving dinner with the following guests present: Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kinkaid, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fox and daughter, Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Groesch and sons, North Warren, Ward Hitchcock, Mr. and Mrs. Elton Hitchcock and daughters, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dobson and daughter, of Sugar Grove.

Mrs. Frank Dorn, who has been a patient in WCA Hospital since October 15, when she fell and received a broken hip, was taken in the ambulance to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harold Haven, Lakewood, where she will remain several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Wright and son, Rickie, left Friday to spend the winter in Auburndale, Fla., with their daughter, Mrs. Margaret ret Hartman. Their home will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. She of Irvine Run.

A new oil burning furnace being installed in the Methodist church.

AKELEY

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Adams Frewsburg, spent Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Miller.

Mrs. Edna Angove returned home on Monday from Gowanus, N. Y., where she visited relatives for a week.

Mrs. Catherine Eller spent past week with relatives in Erie, Pa. Mrs. Flora Whitte returned home Tuesday, having spent past week with her daughter Jamestown.

Mrs. Leland Haller is in Warren General Hospital, where a submitted to a major operation. Her friends will be glad to hear she is getting along nicely.

LeRoy Larson of Allison Pa. spent a few days with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Henry Larson.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Sears a family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Sears in Cable Hill.

Home and Work Found To Be Much Safer Than Roads

New York—Accidents on streets and highways and in other public places exact a substantially higher toll of life in the United States than do home and occupational accidents together. Among males public accidents account for two-thirds of all accident fatalities, and among females 55 percent.

This is based upon the mortality records of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company's industrial policy holders during the five-year period of 1946 through 1950. "Although these insured persons are mostly urban dwellers," the company's statisticians point out, "their experience affords a good indication of what takes place among the population as a whole."

These other facts were revealed by a study of the insurance experience:

At the school ages, accidents in public places account for 85 percent of all fatalities among boys and for 75 per cent among girls.

Accidents in and about the home are responsible for 44 percent of all fatal mishaps among women and for 16 percent among males.

Deaths resulting from occupational injuries account for nearly one fourth of all accident fatalities among men at the main working ages of life. Among women of working age, despite the high level of employment in recent years, occupational injuries accounted for only 1.3 percent of all deaths from accidents.

"Motor vehicle mishaps arising out of or in the course of employment have been classified as occupational accidents," the statisticians point out. "The proportion of public accidents among men at the working ages—65 percent of all accident fatalities—would be even higher if all motor vehicle accidents were classified as public accidents."

Motor vehicle accidents alone take more lives than any other class of accidents. At the school ages, the motor vehicle mishap and drownings cause most of the deaths.

WILLOW CREEK

Mrs. Mildred Stokes passed away at four o'clock Monday morning, Nov. 19, in Bradford Hospital. She had been a patient there for several weeks, having submitted to surgery. She had been in ill health for several years.

She was the mother of Mrs. Leon Cobb, former local resident. A son also survives.

Mrs. Ernest Moore and Mrs. Floyd Keach were November hostesses to members of the local Ladies Aid Society, at the former's home last Tuesday.

A delicious buffet lunch was served at one o'clock, followed by a business meeting over which Mrs. Keach presided.

The bake sale has been postponed until after the holidays. A Thanksgiving program was arranged by Mrs. Moore, which included: Prayer by Mrs. Daisy Halsaver, followed by all repeating The Lord's Prayer; Scripture, 100th Psalm, Miss Eva Crouch; Hymn, "Wonderful Words of Life," sung by group; poem, Mrs. Frank Acker; poem, "Thanksgiving," Miss Eva Crouch; "Let Us Give Thanks," reading by Mrs. Arvid Johnson; "When the Frost Is on the Pumpkin," reading, Mrs. Harold Keesler; Quartet, "What A Friend We Have in Jesus," by Mrs. Harold Keesler, Mrs. Esta Ziccardi, Mrs. Ernest Moore and Mrs. Norman Steele.

Hostesses for the next meeting will be Mrs. W. W. Clancy and Miss May Schurman.

Mrs. Norman Steele and son, of Butler, is visiting local relatives. Mrs. Albert Cobb has been discharged from the Bradford Hospital, where she has been a surgical patient.

The program concluded with each member naming reasons for giving thanks this season.

Present included the following members: Mrs. Myrtle Weisenbaler, Mrs. John Ziccardi, Mrs. Frank Acker, Miss Eva Crouch, Mrs. Daisy Halsaver, Miss May Schurman, Mrs. Norman Steele, Mrs. Charles Wolven, Mrs. Harold Keesler, Mrs. Jean Hopley, of this place; also Mrs. Chauncey Cobb and Mrs. Raymond Cobb, of Bradford; Mrs. Arvid Johnson, of West Branch; also the hostesses, Mrs. Ernest Moore and Mrs. Floyd Keach.

Hostesses for the next meeting will be Mrs. W. W. Clancy and Miss May Schurman.

Mrs. Norman Steele and son, of Butler, is visiting local relatives. Mrs. Albert Cobb has been discharged from the Bradford Hospital, where she has been a surgical patient.

This picture, which appeared in the Ashland (Ky.) Daily Independent, was represented to that newspaper as an actual photograph taken in the sky over Korea. The Independent ran the picture on a Sunday and the entire edition of 14,000 copies was quickly sold out, with people clamoring for more. Two weeks later, also on a Sunday, the paper ran the picture again and the entire edition was snapped up. Readers sent clippings to friends and the Independent has been receiving hundreds of letters from all over the country. According to the information received by the paper, an Air Force man from Chicago took pictures of an American and a Communist plane during a combat patrol. He sent the films home to Chicago to be developed. To the amazement of everyone, including the flyer, the image of Christ, supposedly formed by clouds, showed up on one of the photos. A neighbor of the Air Force man's family in Chicago sent a print to his brother in Ashland. Someone there finally mailed it to the Independent. Actual origin of the picture is a mystery so far, because the names of the Air Force man and of the Chicago neighbor family are unknown.
